Dear Patients:

After careful and long consideration, I am taking advantage of an opportunity to change the focus of my career. I have decided to resign from my position as Nurse Practitioner at TriValley Primary Care- North Willow Grove. It has been a privilege to provide care here and form relationships with you and your families over the past ten years, and this decision was not made lightly. However, at this time it is what's best for myself, my family, and my professional development. Change is good. I will be transitioning out of Primary Care, and I have accepted a position with the Vascular Surgery team at Temple University Hospital. Thank you for all of the support, confidence, and appreciation you have given to me over the years. I have enjoyed my time working at TVPC-NWG and I will greatly miss each relationship I have developed with colleagues and patients alike.

My last day for patient visits will be October 31, 2023. My colleagues and I will do everything possible to ensure as smooth a transition as possible. You will be in great hands with any of the physicians that are here at TVPC-NWG. I wish the practice much success in the future and I'm sure I will continue to see many of you about in the local community.

Sincerely,

Desiree Trader-Kent, CRNP
